FOR TARIFF REVISION.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 28.—The National Association of Manufacturers met for its second session Wednesday. Immediately after the convention had assembled for the afternoon session, the subject of the tariff came before the members in the shape of the report of the special committee appointed Tuesday. The report as presented was as follows:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of the National Association of Manufacturers that the tariff law should be revised at the earliest possible moment, in order that uncertainty may be removed, confidence restored and business permitted to revive.

"Resolved, That rates of duty should be made as low as possible, consistent with adequate protection of our manufacturing and agricultural industries and the labor they employ. The tariff should contain only specific duties or mixed ad valorem and specific duties.

"Resolved, That Congress should be invited to re-establish and extend the system of reciprocity, which may be employed to secure for us tariff favors in Latin-American and other markets in which we are the largest buyers, while Europe is the preferred seller, solely because of the lower wage rate and the lower general costs of production in European countries."

Understand me, however, this is expressly upon the condition that our legislation shall provide for the coinage of silver of the United States only, and that we are not to admit to our mints the silver product of any other country until the nations of the world are ready to join us in international bimetalism."

The resolution was adopted by a party vote.

AMBUSH SPANIARDS AND SHOOT THEM

GUERRILLAS SUFFER A SEVERE DEFEAT.

Cubans Claim to Have Won a Fight in Havana Province—Skirmishes Reported in Which the Royal Army Have Been Victorious—Skirmishing Still Goes On.

Key West, Fla., Jan. 28.—A Cuban arrived on the steamship Olivette says that the Spanish guerrilla leader, Colonel Rotger, was terribly beaten Friday near Rosarios, in the southern part of Havana Province.

False information that fifty insurgents were near there, wounded and ill, induced him to march there at once, with 200 men. Francisco Base, one of Maceo's men, planned the ruse and lay in wait with 250 men one mile from Melena. Here the road was under a high, rocky hill. Base hid his men at the top.

As Rotger's men marched into this death-trap they were saluted with a deadly fire of musketry. As the panic-stricken Spaniards attempted to escape, bowlders were rolled down among them. Colonel Rotger was wounded. Cubans say over 130 dead bodies were counted. Only ten Cubans were killed.

CANAL BILL'S FATE TO BE SOON KNOWN

THE MATTER IS NEARING AN END.

Hot Discussion in the Senate Wednesday on the Subject—Mr. Sherman Makes a Significant Speech—Immigration Measure in the House—Washington News.

Washington, Jan. 28.—A crisis in the debate in the Nicaragua canal bill was reached in the senate Wednesday. It brought out an energetic statement from Senator Sherman, in which he foreshadowed a new treaty by which the United States could build the canal without the intermediation of a private concession. The senator declared that this governmental execution of the project was the only feasible one, and that all private efforts in that direction had proved failures. Answering Mr. Morgan's recent charge that Great Britain inspired opposition to American control of the canal, Mr. Sherman asserted that this was a "bugaboo," wholly without foundation. He added a handsome tribute to Great Britain and her institutions.

The military academy appropriation bill was first taken up. A long discussion ensued on the proposed amendment to the West Point appropriation providing that the cadets shall attend the inauguration ceremony. Finally a vote was taken on the amendment providing for the visit of the cadets, and it was defeated—yeas, 20; nays, 28. The military academy bill was then passed.

The Nicaragua canal bill was then taken up. Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.) criticised Minister Rodriguez and the course of Nicaragua, saying that country had made enough money out of canal concessions and should not be allowed to continue the project on the "bargain counter."

Mr. Hale (Rep., Me.) declared that Secretary Olney had done no less than his duty in sending the Rodriguez letter to the senate, and Mr. Sherman had done no less than his duty in making public that letter.

Mr. Sherman said he believed the only means of building the Nicaragua canal was through the power of the United States. "In my judgment a private company will never be able to build that canal," proceeded Mr. Sherman, "as it is a project too vast to be executed except by the United States." The senator added, speaking with great earnestness: "My honorable friend drew England in, and whenever there is a bugaboo to be presented England is brought before us. The senate of the United States does not fear England or any other power, and the people of the United States do not fear England. We have had two wars with England, long since past, and I hope that war with England will never occur again. The two nations ought never to fight each other. They ought always to be friendly. Great Britain is more and more following the example of the American people of having a government for the people, of the people, by the people, and I believe the time is not far distant when Great Britain will be as free as we are."

Mr. Morgan said that the statement of Mr. Sherman, who was about to become premier, was ex-cathedra. It indicated a purpose to revive the old Frelinghuysen treaty with Nicaragua, but Mr. Morgan gave warning that when that treaty came to the senate it would meet with serious objection, unless it fully protected the rights of the American citizens who had secured a concession and had formed a private company. It would be found at that time that there were still men in the senate determined to protect the rights of American citizens.

Mr. Vilas moved to recommit the bill to the committees on foreign relations.

Mr. Aldrich (Rep., R. I.) said the motion to recommit was a plain proposition to kill the bill, and he urged against such a course. The debate was stopped by a motion to adjourn, which prevailed—28 to 27.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The house Wednesday, after a debate of four hours, adopted the conference report on the immigration bill by a vote of 131 to 118. The principal criticism of the measure agreed on by the conferees in debate was based upon the extension of the educational test to female as well as male immigrants, on the ground that it might divide families; and to the limitation to the ability of an immigrant to read and write the English language or the language of their native country or residence. In reply to a question Mr. Bartholdt (Rep., Me.) said he thought the bill would exclude one-third of our present immigration.

OPPOSITION TO KING OSCAR.

Senate Committee on Foreign Relations Discusses the Treaty.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The Senate committee on foreign relations had the arbitration treaty under consideration for an hour and a half again Wednesday, but failed to reach a conclusion. The necessity of guarding the treaty so as to prevent encroachment under any pretext whatever upon the Monroe doctrine was again the principal topic. An amendment was offered, which it is believed will fully protect all the rights of the United States under the Monroe doctrine and also American rights in connection with the Nicaragua

Canal and the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, but its terms were not made public.

Another amendment offered covers the feature of providing for the selection of King Oscar of Sweden and Norway as umpire. This provision of the treaty may be stricken out or the arbitration commission may be empowered to choose its own umpire whenever occasion arises where a deciding vote may be necessary. It was said that an alliance exists between Great Britain and France, in which the two former countries agree to protect the Scandinavian kingdom "by force of arms," if occasion requires such display on their part. This agreement, it is considered, shows a relationship too close to justify the United States in accepting the ruler of one of the countries to the alliance as arbiter in a dispute with one of the other parties to it.

WOMEN SEEK TO VOTE

The Equal Suffragists Report That Their Cause is Growing—The Des Moines Session.

Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 28.—Wednesday morning's session of the convention of equal suffragists was devoted to reports from various committees. The convention in the afternoon resolved itself into a memorial session, at which tributes were paid to the friends of the cause who have passed away during the year.

Treasurer Harriet Taylor Upton of Ohio reported that six years ago the receipts of the association were not over $2,000. The past organization committee alone collected and disbursed more than $6,000. The total receipts for the year are $11,823.30. The disbursements, $11,663.37, leaving a balance of $159.93. In the matter of the payment of auxiliary dues the following states show gains: California, Colorado, Delaware, Iowa, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nevada, Ohio, New Mexico, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Texas, Virginia and Wisconsin. New York pays the largest auxiliary fee and this year California stands second. The six states paying the largest amount of dues are in their order: New York, California, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Illinois. Over 3,600 letters were sent out from the treasurer's office from Jan. 1, 1896, to Jan. 1, 1897.

The credentials committee reported fifty-one delegates present, but this does not include several general officers. Iowa had eleven delegates present, New York had ten, Wisconsin three, Minnesota five, Illinois five.

Breeden, pastor of the Central Christian church; Mattie Locke Macombe, for the Women's club; Adelaide Ballard, president Iowa Woman's Suffragist association, and a response by the president, Susan B. THE FRAM AFTER HER TRIP.

She Suffered Little Damage in the Three Years.

"The appearance of the Fram," writes a New York Evening Post correspondent concerning Nansen's vessel, "has suffered little since her departure three years ago. A little more dirt on her deck, perhaps, a little more weather-beaten and battered. Everything is in its place and the reserve screw has never even been called into requisition. The big boats, Grand and Gravesen (so named after the two chief restaurants of Christiania) are in their places hanging from the davits as they were when the Fram started on her voyage. From the davits still hang meat and fish, only this time the meat is bear flesh shot by the explorers. The petroleum launch alone has proved a disappointment and was not as useful as it was expected to be. Fire, water and ice did their worst, but to no purpose; it refused to dispose of itself, and one fine day—that is to say, in the summer of 1895—tired of having it about, the explorers chopped it up and used the materials for runners under their sledges. A new generation of dogs has arisen on board the Fram, after the consumption by each other of those shipped at Charbarwa. Of these only one is left, Susi by name, and she is a great pet and the only one of the dogs allowed below deck. Dr. Nansen's Eskimo dog Kirk (from Ryber's expedition), that he took with him, and Susi had between them sixteen puppies, born this spring; as, however, five of them seemed unpromising, they were shot, and only twelve are left. All of them have names and are very affectionate."

CHANGE LIBEL LAW AS TO RETRACTION

BILL IS NOW BEFORE THE LEGISLATURE.

By W. A. Jones—To create a special committee to have charge of the revision of the statutes.

Mr. Davidson—To tax express companies a percentage of the gross receipts.

In the senate a petition was presented by Senator Withee, from the county board of Outagamie county, asking that the law be amended so as to have the election notices published only in weekly newspapers.

Senator Whitehead introduced a bill appropriating a sum of money to the Cameron and Campbell Co., of Oshkosh, to pay them for lumber furnished the State Prison; also a bill to prohibit sale of cigarettes to minors.

The Supreme Court at a formal meeting has officially agreed upon these selections. "While the formal assent of King Oscar to serve as the fifth arbitrator has not been given, it is understood that an intimation has been received that he will accept. GEORGE R. ALLEN IS COLONEL Elected to Command the Columbus, Ohio, Boys' Brigade.

The Ohio State Journal, of Columbus, Ohio, has the following, which will interest Janesville people:

"A rebellion in the Boys' Brigade broke out last evening and an exciting meeting was held in the room of Colonel Allen in the Trinity house. Three weeks ago the brigade elected Colonel W. Chester Johnson, who has been the colonel in the Third Ohio regiment, to the position of brigadier general of the division in this city. At that time it was announced that nominations would be made the following week for the vacancy which his promotion caused. Thursday night, January 7, a meeting was held in which Major G. R. Allen was unanimously nominated for the position and a meeting was called last night to elect him to the vacancy.

"It is charged that General Johnson had other views about who his successor should be, and notwithstanding the fact that he was out of regimental matters and had no part in the regiment's affairs, he, yesterday, issued a proclamation annulling the call for last night's meeting. This precipitated a crisis and Lieutenant Ed. Ibrig issued a call stating that the meeting would be held as at first called, and that General Johnson had no legal or moral right to interfere. The result was an enthusiastic meeting at Major Allen's rooms and the unanimous election of Major Allen to the colonelcy. Lieutenant Ibrig presided over the meeting and Lieutenant H. M. Wey was selected as secretary pro tem.

"A meeting was called for next Monday night, when it will be in order to elect a lieutenant colonel. There are two candidates for the place, Major E. Hoyer and Captain F. L. McKown. It is believed a lively time will be had.

"Tonight company H of the South Congregational church will hold an installation ceremony, and all members of the second battalion are to report at company headquarters and march to Third and Broad to form with the right resting on Third, in order to march to the installation. Company D is ordered to report at church in full uniform at 7 p. m., in order to march to the rendezvous."

Col. Allen will be remembered as George R. Allen, son of Mrs. Margaret Allen, and brother of H. V. Allen of this city.

MISS HICKEY HAS AN OPERATION
Milwaukee Hospital Surgeons Relieve Her.

Miss Nellie Hickey, one of The Gazette's compositors, underwent a surgical operation at a Milwaukee hospital this morning, the knife being handled by Dr. Levin.

Miss Kate Hickey received a dispatch this noon saying that the operation was successful.

Miss Hickey was forced to give up her work in the Gazette office some time ago, her health having become seriously impaired by too close application. For a time the rest seemed to be beneficial, and she seemed to be on the road to a rapid recovery. Some weeks ago, however, she went to Milwaukee, to visit her sister, Mrs. Dolan. While there she consulted Dr. Levin, who told her that medicine would do her no good, and that in an operation lay the only chance of relief, as her complaint was found to be tubercular peritonitis of the lower part of the stomach. The operation was accordingly decided upon, and her mother went to Milwaukee, Tuesday.

Miss Hickey, well known to Janesville people, she having lived in this city nearly all her life. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hickey, and has been employed by The Gazette Company for some years. Her fellow employees, as well as her numerous friends and acquaintances, appreciate her many sterling qualities of mind and heart. Those who have worked with her, realize the fortitude with which she bore her illness, and the determination and liking for her calling, that kept her at work long after she should have taken to her bed; and telegrams from Milwaukee, telling of the operation, were waited for with impatience by The Gazette employees as well as by the relatives.

MISS WICKES FROSTED THEM
Two Janesville College Students Get the "Cold Shoulder" at Madison.

Two well known Janesville boys who are attending the state university got a jara few days ago. During the recent engagement of "The Nancy Hanks" company in Madison, these young men spent a goodly portion of the day at the Park Hotel in the hopes of having the pleasure of meeting Miss Wickes. Both young men sent up their cards, one of which was accompanied by a two page letter. The letter convinced Miss Wickes that she had not met the young men while in Janesville, but both aspired to her acquaintance and proposed a "jilly time" after the performance. At last accounts both young men were still waiting for an answer, as Florence Lillian gave them the "cold shoulder."

BILLY RICE NOTES CHANGES.
Minstrel Man Used to Play Here Twenty Years Ago.

"Billy" Rice, the well known minstrel man, with twenty-one members of his company, arrived in the city at 6:30 o'clock this morning, from Baraboo.

"I have not been in Janesville for eight or ten years," remarked Mr. Rice; "but way back—about twenty years ago—I used to come to this town. And the way we used to pack the old Myers opera house, would do your heart good. While walking about the city today, I notice several changes."

From here the company goes to Rockford.

Chicago Man Must Settle For the Vehicle in Dispute.

Indian Ford.
Indian Ford, Jan. 28.—Mrs. John Scardiff had the misfortune to lose a valuable cow, a few days ago. John Hodge is making his home at G. L. Osmerslain's. About twenty of Miss L. Thomas' young friends repudiated a pleasant surprise on her last Wednesday evening, it being her fourteenth birthday, and all had a good time.

THE NEW GAME LAW IS PICKED APART

THE SPRING SHOOTING CLAUSE CRITICIZED.

Timme Measure is Generally Satisfactory—Local Sportsmen Favors a Stringent Anti-Sneak Boat Provision—Would Rather See the Season Open Later—Plan of Bill.

Janesville sportsmen are much interested in the new game law. Senator Timme's bill is a concise measure, and only one exception is taken to it as a rule, by sportsmen. The open season for quail, woodcock and snipe is set for Aug. 20, while it will be unlawful to kill aquatic birds prior to Sept. 1. In addition to this, spring shooting is not prohibited, and an exceedingly salient feature for the protection of ducks and geese during the breeding season is entirely ignored. The time for killing deer is sensible and satisfactory, and the provision for the prosecution of hotel keepers and dealers who have game in their possession during the closed season is commendable. If the section in relation to fishing through the ice becomes a part of the law, anglers will be more successful in years to come, during the season allotted to catching game fish, as the system of setting out "tip-pus" in addition to nets having depopulated streams and lakes where in former years bass, pickerel and pike abounded. The use of dogs has been prohibited in preceding bills, but the laws have been inoperative, owing to absence of a satisfactory warden system for the apprehension of hunters who used hounds to pursue deer.

Regarding Spring Shooting.
Why ducks are not protected in the spring cannot be understood by sportsmen who have studied the question. Legislators who have favored spring shooting say as a rule that while a spring law would undoubtedly result in an increase in the game each succeeding fall, that in Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois and the Dakotas the birds are not protected in the spring, and ask why Wisconsin should set the pace. The slaughter of ducks in the spring has ruined the fall shooting in Wisconsin, except where clubs owning preserves have patrolled the marshes controlled by them and permitted the birds to rest in peace and hatch out their young. Last fall the shooting marshes in Wisconsin provided very little sport and hunters as a rule returned to their homes with empty bags.

The time for opening the season on other game birds should also be set for September 1, as that date the young birds are generally able to fly and are in prime condition, while ten or fifteen days earlier they are immature. September 15 would, in fact, be a better day for the shooting to begin, as all the birds would then be stronger flyers and supply a better test for the skill of the hunters.

Local shooters also favor a strict anti-sneak boat provision.

APPROVE OF SECRETARY GAGE

President-elect McKinley could not have chosen a better man for secretary of the treasury than Lyman J. Gage, and the news that Mr. Gage will accept gives general satisfaction on the country. For many years Mr. Gage has been a recognized authority on monetary issues. No man in the country, it is safe to say, has a better knowledge of the entire financial question in its broader aspects. The useful service rendered to the country by Hugh McCulloch, another practical banker, in the Lincoln-Johnson and Arthur administrations will be equaled, it is reasonable to suppose, by that of Mr. Gage in the McKinley cabinet.

JUST $45,754,000 AHEAD.

A big loss was the best the government could hope for in the Union Pacific muddle, and the reorganization scheme finally adopted, is perhaps the best possible under the circumstances. The government is to receive on its lien on the Union Pacific at least $45,754,000, including the sinking fund, which is a sum much larger than anybody heretofore supposed would be realized. J. Pierpont Morgan is to be the head of the syndicate which is to buy the road. The government is to foreclose its lien as soon as possible, and its connection with the road will have a termination advantageous to the interests of the people.

A warm personal friend of President McKinley will represent Wisconsin in the United States senate during the next six years. John C. Spooner need depend upon nobody's personal favor to secure a hearing, but his intimate and confidential relations with the president-elect will be of mutual benefit.

Two million dollars in cash will be brought into four Wisconsin counties by the 1896 tobacco crop. Little Robert Reed suffers greatly by comparison with Sir Walter Raleigh when this figure is quoted to a farmer's convention.

Delaware's senatorial squabble would not have occupied so much time had the people been given a chance to express themselves.

Considering how much the performance has cost Janesville tax payers it ought to be declared a penal offense to fall on a slippery sidewalk.

There seems to be a sane streak in the new Kansas senator. He wants a tariff "to provide ample revenue."

We have a fair supply of mayoralty candidates—will somebody please nominate an alderman?

Things are getting into republican trim. A gold reserve for $143,000,000 seems like old times.

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 28.—New bills introduced in the legislature provide a tax of 1 per cent on the net income of corporations and on personal incomes in excess of $750; an inheritance tax of 1 per cent; a special tax on the refined products of mines of every description; for the examination and supervision of private banks by the state banking department, and making the agreement of nine jurors sufficient to decide civil cases.

Views of Senator Harris.

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 28.—After his election Wednesday United States Senator-elect W. A. Harris addressed the legislature at some length. He said that, although he was not an advocate of protection, he favored giving it a fair trial, since the people had voted that way in November, and, although he had worn the gray in the late war, he believed there should be a liberal service pension for the soldiers of the north.

IS HE

"A GOOD ONE?"

MRS. DIXON, 68 Chatham street, Janesville, suffered with rheumatism eight years. Had been treated by many physicians and taken "sure cures," but constantly grew worse until she was helpless. Her case became well known as a hopeless one. M. Alden Moreho se, the New York Sp. chian, now permanently located at the Murdock Flats, North Franklin street, was called to see her a month ago. His friends advised him to refuse the case as it was incurable and would only injure his business. He did not fear such a result and at once began a preparatory course in nerve, s in and muscle feeding to prepare her system for remedies which are to follow. People then said: "If he can do anything for Mrs. Dixon he is a good one." At the end of the preparatory treatment he has her permission to use all we are interested, for themselves or for others, to call and see what improvement has already taken place and then answer for themselves the question, as above.

INSURANCE COMPANY HOLDS CASH BACK

INTERESTING POINT IN MARKSMAN CASE.

Attorney For the Corporation Here to See if the Insured Died of Consumption and if He Did They Will Contest the Payment of the Amount.

The payment of a thousand dollar insurance policy upon the life of the late Henry W. Marksman, will depend upon whether or not he died of consumption.

If the fact is proved that he died of that disease the National Mutual Life company of Minneapolis intend to withhold such payment.

Mr. Marksman was employed as a cigar maker in this city and was also a member of the local Woodmen's lodge. In 1882 he took out a policy with the National Mutual Life and at that time was pronounced "insurable" by Dr. W. B. Judd. This policy was kept up but a short time when it was dropped.

In 1894, it is claimed, Marksman concluded to renew his policy. The Minneapolis company now claims that he filled out the necessary papers himself without being examined, and then forwarded them to headquarters. Attorney G. F. Getty arrived in the city this morning from Minneapolis, and in the interests of the company intends to leave no stone unturned in his search, before the money is paid.

The Woodmen paid a $2,000 policy to Marksman's mother, who then purchased the Williams property on Ringgold street. Marksman's father and mother are now living, while one of his brothers recently died with consumption and a younger brother is now said to be ill with the same disease in Chicago.

Marksman's relatives and friends in this city claim that he never showed signs of being ill with consumption, and that he was strong and healthy in appearance.

BONE WAS CAUGHT IN HIS THROAT

WELL KNOWN MILTON MAN IN TROUBLE.

J. I. Mack Could Not Swallow a Piece of Spare-rib and It Lodged in His Esophagus—Brought Here After Efforts to Remove it Had Failed.

All efforts by Milton doctors to dislodge a portion of a pig's rib from the esophagus of J. I. Mack, proved futile and the suffering man was brought to this city on the noon train for treatment.

Mr. Mack is well known throughout the county and is the possessor of a fruit farm near Milton. For their breakfast the Mack family had spare ribs. Mr. Mack was eating, but suddenly jumped to his feet and exclaimed that he had swallowed a large bone. He complained of sharp pains, and Dr. Burdick of Milton was called. He located the bone in the esophagus near the entrance to the stomach.

Three feet of rubber tubing was then inserted in the sufferer's throat, but the bone was there to stay, and could not be moved. During this ordeal Mr. Mack complained of terrible pains, and a short consultation resulted in his being put on the train and brought to this city, where instrument could be had, and at the office of Dr. J. P. Thorne the suffering man found relief.

With a three-foot length of stiff rubber pipe, the bone was dislodged, and pushed downward. Dr. Thorne then advised Mack to eat mashed potatoes, and at an east side restaurant he did justice to a liberal quantity.

More trouble may follow, and an operation may yet be necessary. Mr. Mack returned home on the noon train.

CAPT. T. J. ROGERS ACCEPTS. He Will Rescue the Beloit Rifles From Disolution.

Captain Tom J. Rogers has received his commission as commander of the Line City Rifles, W. N. G., and assumed command of the company last night. His connection with the company inspires the members with enthusiasm, and Company E will boom again, judging from its success under Captain Rogers in the past.

Captain Rogers is one of Wisconsin's best known military men, having

CAPT. T. J. ROGERS. served as captain of the Beloit company before, and also as regimental inspector of small arms practice. The Beloit company was in a very bad way, and Captain Rogers was sought in hopes that it could be pulled together again. That he will succeed in the work, no man who is familiar with the national guard will doubt.

WHITEHEAD'S BILL BARS CIGARETTES

"COFFIN-NAIL" MEASURE IS PRESENTED.

Makes It An Offense to Sell the Article to Minors—Bill Said to Have The Endorsement of the State Christian Endeavor Societies—Its Provisions.

Senator John M. Whitehead today went on record as opposed to the "deadly cigarette."

As is told in a dispatch, he introduced an "anti-cigarette bill" in the legislature this morning at Madison. The measure is not so sweeping as that introduced in the assembly last week by Mr. Hurd. It was drawn by Joseph Stark of Milwaukee and it is understood that the Christian Endeavor Societies of the state will strongly advocate its passage. It prohibits the sale of cigarettes to persons under the age of eighteen years, and provides for a fine of not less than $5 or more than $20 for violation of this provision. A second offense is to be punished by a fine of not less than $25 or more than $100.

About Good Butter. We have made arrangements with a private creamery for butter of a choice variety. The man with whom we are dealing owns his own cows and creamery apparatus, makes the butter himself, and therefore knows it to be of the highest class. Milk drawn to a public creamery is mixed with other milk and cleanliness is not looked after as stringently as should be. This latter is put up in two pound sealed air tight packages and eight pound pails and is very full, a trial package will convince you. C. A. Sanborn & Co.

Ladies Are Interested. Never before has a demonstration created such an interest among the ladies in the history of our store, and in fact, in the history of the city, as the one now in progress. Richelieu goods are here to remain permanently and many a pantry shelf will be graced with these articles. Every day sees an increase in the number of people who test the estates and our invitation to those who have not yet visited the demonstration is extended. C. A. Sanborn & Co.

Hat Had to Go. Here is the lay of an English student of human nature in the London Society: She sat before me at the play. Her hat betwixt me and the stage. I said: "She's of uncertain age; She wears her hat because she's gray." Two hands went up, two pins came down. Her hat was off. Her hair was brown.

THE LATEST FASHIONS.

Lace the Favorite Trimming—Pearl and Diamond Combs.

For dinner gowns long sleeves are definitely adopted, the décolletage remaining as usual. This new departure, which is, of course, not universal and not mandatory, is rather striking and effective and obviates the long glove difficulty which always presents itself at dinners.

Outside of metal and jewel effects, lace is the favorite trimming. For skirts it is used in the form of flounces, a fashion which has come in again very acceptably. Lace also veils the tablier, is applied flat or forms quills on either side of the front. Jabots of lace decorate the bodice, and lace outlines the décolletage and is gathered around the collar.

Jewelry is, of course, much worn now, as is natural when the entire costume suggests goldsmith's work. Pearls and diamonds are enjoying especial favor, particularly in combination. Combs of these two gems sustain the hair, which is worn very high for evening occasions, and agrets of diamonds scintillate in the midst of feathers and flowers. They are likewise set in the handles and sticks of fans.

Chine effects are seen on some of the new summer goods, notably on grass lawns printed in colors. They are very pretty and are likely to be much worn. In foulards there are large, conspicuous white designs

Wandering over a ground of tines, crin, brown or wine color, and the same patterns are copied in printed flannelettes and cottons, the former for wrappers, the latter for shirt waists. All shirt waists have white collars now, and most of them have adjustable cuffs as well, which is a decided improvement on the old kind, which could not be changed.

The sketch shows a charming costume of liberty satin. The skirt is covered with four finely plaited flounces in the revived style. Clusters of horizontal tucks alternate with ruffles on the bodice, masses of ruffles forming the sleeve caps. The sleeves themselves are tight and are covered with lace. The collar and full belt are of geranium velvet, the latter being fastened by a jeweled buckle.

For Your College Friends.

Pillows and cushions are always acceptable. A pillow in the form of a football made a boy's college colors will please him. Another design is to sew two handkerchiefs together to within about three inches of each corner. Having put the cushion in, tie the corners securely, leaving the edges go loose. Again, make two small, flat cushions and taking two handkerchiefs fasten the cushions together by tying the corners of one handkerchief to the corners of the other in knots.

France Compliments the English.

An Englishman, though generally thick skinned, does not take in an indifferent way the revilements he receives from a major part of the French press. An article in Macmillan's Magazine entitled "French and English" complains of the treatment:

In their loudly expressed loathing of the unknown country across the channel they forget their legitimate revenge, and they would pretend to fold the German to their breast, as they long since welcomed his beer, if by the pretense they could put another insult upon the loathed island. For them the Englishman is a veritable boggy—a composite monster, with the maw of the ostrich, the beak of a hawk, the claws of a tiger, the manner of a clergyman and the cunning of an ape. This terrific creature, says the French journalist, roams up and down the world, impelled only by the lust of plunder and of blood, but he is happiest when he is robbing the honest Frenchman of his due or cajoling the mild mannered Beligan (on the Congo) into the forfeiture of his ivory.

Above all this shameless hybrid is a trait. If the sun never sets on his empire, his eye never closes in sleep, and ever from beneath his drooping lid he spies some fresh occasion for ruin and outrage. To his insidious ingenuity no limit is set. He is capable of organizing the manufacture of dynamite and of betraying his own plot that France may tremble for the safety of her czar. Not long since a halfpenny print, in search of a headline, announced the murder of the sultan, and, declared the Parisian journals, the falsehood was plainly invented by England, that monster personified, with the deliberate intent to shake the peace of Europe.

FREE TO EVERY MAN

WHICH CURED HIM AFTER EVERYTHING ELSE FAILED.

THE METHOD OF A GREAT TREATMENT FOR WEAKNESS OF MEN.

Painful diseases are bad enough, but when a man is slowly wasting away with nervous weakness, the mental forebodings are ten times worse than the most severe pain. There is no let up to the mental suffering day or night. Sleep is almost impossible and under such a strain men are scarcely responsible for what they do. For years the writer rolled and tossed on the troubled sea of sexual weakness until it was a question whether he had better take a dose of poison and thus end all his troubles. But providential inspiration came to his aid in the shape of a combination of medicines that not only completely restored the general health, but enlarged his weak, emaciated parts to natural size and vigor, and he now declares that any man who will take the trouble to send his name and address may have the method of this wonderful treatment free. Now when I say free I mean absolutely without cost, because I want every weakened man to get the benefit of my experience.

I am not a philanthropist, nor do I pose as an enthusiast, but there are thousands of men suffering the mental tortures of weakened manhood who would be cured at once could they but get such a remedy as the one that cured me. Do not try to study out how I can afford to pay the few postage stamps necessary to mail the information, but send for it, and learn that there are a few things on earth that although they cost nothing to get they are worth a fortune to some men and mean a lifetime of happiness to most of us. Write to Thomas Slater, Box 454, Kalamazoo, Mich., and the information will be mailed in a plain sealed envelope.
